

Job Opportunity with Advance Components in Chicago Area

Advance Components is seeking an experienced, proven leader to serve as Regional Sales Manager based in the Chicago area to service the company's established distributor customer base across the Midwest. Advance is a privately held, master-stocking distributor for engineered specialty-fastening solutions to the industrial market. For more information, please contact: careers@advancecomponents.com.