

Brighton Best International to Acquire Vertex Distribution

Brighton Best International, Inc. (BBI) is pleased to announce the acquisition of Vertex Distribution (Vertex), an industry leader of stainless fasteners in North America. The purchase was structured as an asset transaction and will close October 31, 2021.

“We are appreciative to DOT Family Holdings for the opportunity to acquire Vertex Distribution,” said Jun Xu, president of BBI. “Vertex has a deep legacy in the fastener industry with the company tracing its roots back to the 1880s. We are excited to bring Vertex into the BBI family and to build forth a more robust and diversified business for our distributors.”

“BBI management brings many years of hands-on experience running and growing companies,” said Rich Megliola, president of Vertex Distribution. “They are great people, serious businesspeople, and very focused on helping their customers, suppliers and employees achieve a higher level of success. I have found their insights and perspectives invaluable. They have interest and intense passion to lead our business. Consistent with the Vertex culture, it is clear that Jun, Peggy and the BBI team believe people matter.”

Jun Xu and Rich Megliola expressed their appreciation to the customers, suppliers and employees who have shown their support to their individual companies in the past and look forward to building a stronger business through the combined strengths of both organizations.