

Hi Mike,

Congrats on "handing the publishing reins" over! Hope to see you in Vegas to wish you the best in your next adventure.

Meanwhile, here is the latest news from Advance. Please post it in your news updates.

Advance Components is now a master-stocking distributor for Davies Molding, the industry's lead manufacturer of insert-molded knobs, handles and custom components.

"By diversifying our stock and adding Davies Molding products, our distributor customers get a full spectrum of quality stock to choose from," says Advance president Gary Cravens. Advance is the distributor's source for value-added engineering and fastening solutions. Visit advancecomponents.com for more information.

Warm regards,

Pam
