

Wrought Washer Selects Jeff Liter to Lead Company

Wrought Washer, the leader in the domestic washer industry, is pleased to announce Jeff Liter as president. Liter, a veteran of the fastener industry, is experienced in both manufacturing and distribution. In this role, he will be focused on leading the continued growth of Wrought Washer.

“Jeff has experience and a track record of leadership and success,” said Paul Schulz, current president and shareholder. “We believe his industry knowledge will allow for a smooth transition and assures our future, remaining as the leader in domestic washers and specialty flat stamping.”

Liter is an accomplished executive with 15 years of fastener-related experience working most recently in the industry as executive vice president for Wurth/Service Supply and former CEO for Elgin Fastener Group.

“I am excited about the opportunity to work with the existing management team,” Liter said. “Wrought Washer has a well deserved reputation as a leader in the industry founded on quality and customer service. We will build on this by focusing on our existing customers and seeking new opportunities. Also, we’re fortunate that Paul Schulz and the ownership team have agreed to remain involved to allow me time to understand the market and our customer needs.”

About Wrought Washer:

Headquartered in Milwaukee, Wisconsin with 225,00 square foot of manufacturing and multiple regional stocking warehouses, Wrought Washer is the leader in standard and specialty washers. For more than a century, Wrought has been supplying high-quality washers and flat stampings for a broad range of markets including automotive, agricultural, truck, electrical, appliance, construction and industrial equipment. Visit www.wroughtwasher.com.